

taste

WASHINGTON

TASTE WASHINGTON 2023 TICKETS ON SALE NOW

Organizers announce ticket sales open for Grand Tasting and Seminar Series

SEATTLE (December 15, 2022) – Taste Washington is making its big return to Seattle in March 2023, and today tickets are officially on sale for the iconic Grand Tasting and Seminar Series.

After a 3-year hiatus, the nation’s largest single-region wine and food festival will celebrate its 23rd year in 2023. Taste Washington is anchored by the Grand Tasting at Lumen Field where on Saturday, March 11 and Sunday, March 12 over 250 Washington wineries will gather to pour alongside some of the state’s best restaurants.

Also featured Saturday and Sunday is the Taste Washington Seminar Series at Four Seasons Seattle. Join the conversation with top winemakers, growers, Masters of Wine, Master Sommeliers, and national wine personalities through panel discussion, blind tastings, and thoughtful tasting lineups. Voices including Elaine Chukan Brown and Maryam Ahmed will share insight and host discussion, MW Bob Betz and writer Sean Sullivan will reflect on how Washington has evolved, Paul Zitarelli will explore Washington Sparkling, and Compass Wines’ Doug Charles is set to lead the infamous ‘Washington vs. the World’ conversation.

“Planning for Taste Washington 2023 began over a year ago, and ticket sales mark our first major milestone,” said Chris Stone, VP of Marketing and Communications for the Washington State Wine Commission. “We’ve been ready to welcome the Washington wine family back together for this event and we’re so excited it’s finally here.”

Tickets for the Grand Tasting include Saturday attendance, Sunday attendance, or a two-day pass to attend both days. Single day passes range from $109-$129 for general admission, $199-$225 for VIP and two-day passes are $185-$299. Seminars are held at Four Seasons Seattle from 10:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. both days, and range from $75-$95. The full seminar lineup, list of wineries, and ticket sale information can be found on the Taste Washington website.

This year’s festival will host additional wine-centric events throughout the week of March 6 at various venues across Seattle, including The New Vintage and Sunday Brunch. New this year is Pacific Standard, a nautically inclined evening on the Piers, and a highly anticipated Dinner Series, bringing wine lovers and winemakers together to enjoy a meal prepared by premier chefs. No Frills and Field to Table also join the line-up of Taste Washington events. Ticket sales for all other events will go live on January 11.

To stay updated on Taste Washington 2023, visit the website and sign up for the Taste Washington newsletter.

Images for Taste Washington can be found here.

About Washington State Wine Commission

The Washington State Wine Commission (WSWC) represents every licensed winery and wine grape grower in Washington State. Guided by an appointed board, WSWC provides a marketing platform to raise positive awareness of the Washington State wine industry and generate greater demand for its wines. Funded almost entirely by the industry through assessments based on grape and wine sales, WSWC is a state government agency, established by the legislature in 1987. To learn more, visit <http://www.washingtonwine.org>.

Washington State Wine Commission Contact:

Averyl D. Mooney
admooney@washingtonwine.org

About SE Productions

SE Productions, creators of 'Field To Table', 'Sumo + Sushi' and 'Bacon Eggs & Kegs', is the ultimate experience maker. Since 2013, it's been galvanized by creatives, crafters, festival producers, food lovers, outdoor enthusiasts and more. Along the way, this alliance has met incredible people and worked with exceptional partners, and believes sharing experiences with others is more important than ever. More at <https://www.seproductions.us>.

SE Productions Contact:

Chloe Hendrickson
chloe@seproductions.us